THE NONPROFIT INFORMATION INVENTORY

Necessary Checklists for Executive Leadership Contingency Succession Planning

It has been said that a leader is only as good as the information that is provided to help him or her make good decisions about the future course of the organization. Our Information Inventory is provided to help everyone involved in a leadership capacity have access to factual information vital to managing a nonprofit organization.

Nonprofit Information Inventory

Necessary Checklists for Executive Leadership Contingency Planning

When a vacancy occurs for any reason in a key leadership position, a checklist of information should be available to enable continued service without interruption. The location of documents, the status of current contracts, understanding promises that have been made and having quick access to vendors with vital information are all essential resources for moving forward.

The following pages are meant to align your organization and its leadership prepare for planned or unplanned executive transition whenever it may occur. Third Sector Company highly recommends that the organization complete and review the Organizational Information Inventory annually and provide copies to the Chairman of the Board, Executive Director, legal counsel, and other senior managers and corporate officers as appropriate.

This document should be completed in tandem with the annual operating budget. When you secure an Interim Executive Director through Third Sector Company, you want the professional to "hit the ground running." It is only when a leadership team is working from the same body of vital information that a collective wisdom can be cultivated quickly about the short-term strategic direction of the organization.

Once the Inventory is completed, the information contained in this document is confidential.

Distribution of the completed Inventory should be carefully considered to make sure only the most appropriate leaders are aware of the current status of the organization.

At Third Sector Company, our founding principle has been to help nonprofit organizations find higher ground during times of transition. We hope this Organizational Information Inventory proves to be a useful tool for helping you and your organization to achieve that objective each year.

Third Sector Company gratefully acknowledges the contributions of The Center for Nonprofit Advancement in Washington, DC for providing a significant portion of the content of this document for your use. The Support Center for Nonprofit Management in New York City and CompassPoint Nonprofit Services in Oakland, California also have contributing to this document.

We appreciate having the opportunity to support you and your important mission of community service.

THE NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONAL INFORMATION INVENTORY

Knowing where your organization's key information is located is critical so that if an emergency succession should occur, your organization will be able to quickly work in the most efficient and effective ways.

The Information Inventory is divided into sections that will let the Board of Directors, the Executive Director and other members of the senior executive staff know how to quickly:

- ACCESS DOCUMENTS that are fundamental to the management and operation of a nonprofit organization
- CONTACT VENDORS who provide services and counsel to the organization including auditors, attorneys, payroll services, insurance companies and facilities maintenance
- REVIEW CONTRACTS which present legal obligations of the organization to provide service or operate in a specific fashion
- CONTACT MAJOR DONORS who represent significant sources of charitable contributions

Our experience in interim executive management has proven that vital information needs to be gathered and accessible in the following key areas of operations for review at all times:

- FINANCES AND PAYROLL
- BANKING
- INSURANCE
- LEGAL
- HUMAN RESOURCES
- FACILITIES
- SERVICE CONTRACTS
- FUNDRAISING

The Inventory should be completed and reviewed annually to make sure that during unplanned or planned transitions, organizational leadership has direct access to vital information necessary for making strategic leadership decisions. A copy of the Information Inventory should be attached to the organization's annual succession planning policy and be part of the annual budget approval process.
